president's MESSAGE

or this issue of the Wise Giving Guide, we decided to return to the Donor Digest format, where we feature some of the more popular topics of interest to contributors. We start with a summary of the latest total U.S. giving statistics as published by Giving USA, written and researched by the Lilly Family School of Philanthropy at Indiana University.

As the past year was filled with tragedies and challenges due to the war in Ukraine, the devastation caused by hurricanes Ian and Fiona, and other events, we included our tips on disaster relief donations. Keep in mind that the needs of victims do not disappear with the headlines.

A frequent donor problem is how to reduce the volume of unwanted direct mail appeals. To address this common annoyance, we provide steps donors can take to help get removed from mailing lists.

We have also included highlights from a Special Edition of our Donor Trust Report, which addresses diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) issues and explores, among other things, if donors value DEI in charities. The results of this survey of over 2,100 adults in the U.S. and over 1,000 in Canada include interesting aspects of this subject and we encourage readers to seek out the full report on Give.org to learn more.

Thank you for your continuing interest in strengthening charity accountability and for your thoughtful giving this holiday season and throughout the year.

H. Art Taylor, President & CEO

DONOR HANDBOOK

$484.85 Billion Donated in 2021

Giving USA, the annual summary of U.S. giving statistics written by the Lilly School of Philanthropy at Indiana University, reports 2021 contributions totaled $484.85 billion, which increased 4% over the previous year. In addition to confirming American generosity, this report annually reminds us that contributions by individuals are the largest source. $326.87 billion dollars of giving from living individuals (i.e., not including bequests) comprises 67% of donations, followed by foundations 19%, bequests 10% and corporations 4%.

Total 2021 Giving by Recipient Organization—$484.85 Billon

* Giving to individuals consists of in-kind gifts of medications to patients in need.

Tips on Disaster Relief Donations

To assist donors seeking to support relief efforts for recent or future natural disasters or tragedies, BBB Wise Giving Alliance offers the following tips.

- Is the disaster appeal clear? The contribution request should clearly identify what disaster relief activities you are supporting. There are many possibilities such as temporary shelter, food, medical care and other emergency needs. Don't assume what the charity does based solely on the group's name.
- Does the charity already have a presence in the impacted area? Charities that already have support staff in the impacted areas are more likely to deliver help quickly at a time of immediate need.

- 3. Is the charity an experienced relief organization? Experienced relief organizations will be able to provide help with greater speed and efficiency than a newly created effort.
- 4. If considering crowdfunding, do you know its procedures? Some crowdfunding sites take measures to vet postings after a disaster, others don't. Review the site's policies and procedures to find out. If in doubt, it is always safest to donate to people who you personally know and trust
- 5. Does the organization meet the 20 BBB Charity Standards? We recommend donating to charities that meet all 20 of the BBB Standards for Charity Accountability. Visit BBB's Give.org to access free evaluative reports on charities.

The following organizations are BBB Accredited Charities (i.e., meet the 20 BBB Standards for Charity Accountability) that previously announced on their respective websites in 2022 that they were collecting funds to assist Hurricane Ian and/or Hurricane Fiona relief efforts.

Canadian Charities: If you are considering donating to a Canadian-based charity, there is a list of Registered Charities provided by the Government of Canada, which can be found at this URL— https://apps.cra-arc.gc.ca/ebci/hacc/srch/pub/dsplyBscSrch?request_locale=en. While the registration with this government agency does not mean the government is recommending or endorsing the charity, it does signify that the group has filed the appropriate paperwork with this agency.

Charity Mailing List Removal

There's no way to stop all unwanted charity mail, but these tips can help:

- Discard appeals that don't interest you. No charity expects a response from everyone it solicits.
- Write directly to charities whose mail you don't want and ask them to delete your name from their mailing lists. Tell charities you support if you want your name removed from any lists they rent or exchange. (A BBB Charity Standard calls for charities to offer contributors an opt-out opportunity, in its written appeals, at least once a year.)
- Enclose the mailing label or return card that came with an appeal when you write to ask a charity to either stop mailing or eliminate duplicate appeals.
- Add correct postage to any charity appeal envelope on which you've written "delete my name" or "return to sender" before you put it the mailbox. Charities' nonprofit mailing rate covers delivery to your home but doesn't pay for returns.
- Register with the Direct Marketing Association Mail Preference Service, dmachoice.org. Since not all mailers use this service, registering won't eliminate all unwanted mail but can reduce it.
- State your preferences about the number and timing of appeals from your favorite charities and see if they'll honor them. Many now offer automatic monthly bank withdrawal plans that replace mailings.
- Tell BBB WGA if a national charity doesn't handle a complaint to your satisfaction. Send us your complaint by regular mail or e-mail and we will relay it to the charity. To meet BBB Charity Standard 20, charities must respond and act on complaints we bring to their attention.

Donor Trust Report: Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI)

The Give.org Special Donor Trust Report: Diversity, Equity and Inclusion explores (1) whether donors value DEI in charities; (2) whether DEI is a meaningful consideration in the giving process; and (3) how different demographic groups (including age, race, sexual orientation, and religious identity) differ in their preferences. These results are based on an electronic survey of more than 2,100 adults across the United States and more than 1,000 adults in Canada conducted during December 2021. Here are some highlights from that study. To access the full report visit give.org/give.org-donor-trust-report Donors value DEI in the charities they support. Most people assume that a charity having a diverse, equitable, and inclusive board and staff has positive effects on the organization.

While DEI in a charity's board and staff are not a driving influence for giving, 2 in 5 donors would not donate to a charity that tolerates discrimination.

Government Regulations vs. Voluntary Standards

In describing what the law requires of charities, some of the fundamentals include, but are not limited to, annually filing the IRS 990 financial form, registering as a soliciting charity with the applicable state government agencies, not misleading donors, not engaging in fraudulent practices and/or misusing charitable funds to benefit charity staff and/or board members.

As a standards-based charity evaluator, however, BBB Wise Giving Alliance looks beyond the legal requirements in completing its reports on charities. The BBB Standards for Charity Accountability encourage charities to ensure the volunteer board is active, independent and free of selfdealing, spend funds prudently and in accordance with statements made in appeals, have accurate appeals, respect donor privacy, and include specified disclosures on its website and in causerelated marketing promotions. While some of these issues overlap with legal requirements, the specific recommendations included in these standards, in many instances, call for practices that stretch beyond what the law can address.

The distinction between legal requirements and voluntary recommendations is also reflected in the language used to describe them. One complies with regulations because the law requires it, in contrast one meets a standard if one chooses to follow it.

The public expects charities "to do the right thing" and if asked, will likely indicate this means more than just meeting legal requirements. It embodies the notion of trust, which we believe is an objective that is well addressed by meeting the BBB Standards for Charity Accountability.

Assessing New Charities

One of the strengths of the charitable sector in the United States is the sheer volume of charities. According to the 2021 IRS Data Book during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2021, there were a total of 1,431,266 organizations that were tax exempt as charities, under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. This included 78,093 new organizations that applied for and received 501 (c)(3) charitable tax-exempt status. Although most new charities will be small, some donors may be interested in finding out more about them. The challenge is that until the first 18 months have passed, it is unlikely that their first financial statements (and/or IRS Form 990) will be available. BBB Wise Giving Alliance offers the following advice to help potential donors assess brand new organizations.

Check out their website. Even a new charity will likely have a website that includes basic facts about its intended goals and activities. See if there is a clear description of what the organization plans to accomplish. Be wary of vague explanations that do not provide any specifics about how the charity will carry out its efforts.

Find out about board oversight. Although the charity is new, it will have a board of directors that is ultimately in charge of the oversight of the operations and staff. See if the organization's website has a board roster that identifies who serves on the board and provides their professional affiliations. This may help you determine if the charity's governing body is being led by individuals that have the knowledge and/or experience in addressing the identified cause.

Review the charity's privacy policy. See if the website includes a clear and accessible privacy policy that tells visitors (i) what information, if any, is being collected about them by the charity and how this information will be used, (ii) how to contact the charity to review personal information collected and request corrections, (iii) how to inform the charity (e.g., a check off box) that the visitor does not wish his/her personal information to be shared outside the organization, and (iv) what security measures the charity has in place to protect personal information.

Be cautious about emergency appeals. If the charity is raising funds for some type of emergency need, it should be able to substantiate that the timing and nature of its expenditures will be in accordance with what is stated, expressed or implied in its solicitations. Also keep in mind that even with the best of intentions, it can be challenging for new charities to address emergency situations unless they have adequate connections or skills to address circumstances at hand.

How to Read the List of National Charities

he following is an alphabetical listing of the charities that are the subjects of BBB Wise Giving Alliance evaluations. The list includes organizations that have requested to be evaluated as well as those that have received the highest volume of inquiries. The BBB WGA receives inquiries through the mail, phone, e-mail and referrals from local Better Business Bureaus.

Please note the following explanations about this list:

Name Inclusion: Inclusion on this list should not be interpreted as approval or disapproval of a charity. The information in this listing is intended solely to assist donors in exercising their own judgment.

Name Omission: Omission from this list should not be interpreted as meaning that a charity meets or does not meet standards. In general, it simply means that the BBB WGA has not developed a report because it has not received recent inquiries about a charity or a charity has not requested to be evaluated.

Latest Results: This list reflects the latest charity report results as of October 12, 2022. Charity reports are available until their expiration dates, generally two years after their completion. All reports are based on the BBB Wise Giving Alliance Standards for Charity Accountability.

Are you looking for a national charity that's not on our list? Ask us about specific national charities not currently included. Encourage national charities we don't currently report about to contact us about enrolling online (there's never a charge for evaluation). In either way, you can help expand the list.

Note to readers about "see entry for"

Charities sometimes use several names in their materials. In some cases the variation is only slight, such as using an acronym for the full name. In other cases, the names have no self-evident connection, as, for example, the official corporate name and a name used in fund raising. In still others, different individual names may denote different programs of the same organization. This list includes all names currently used by a charity, but the evaluation status of that charity appears only under the main entry. White horizontal bars indicate an alternate name, and refer you to the evaluation listing.

Definitions for the List's Column Headings

Accredited (Met Standards) — Charities with a green check box In the first column next to their name met the 20 Standards for Charity Accountability on pages 44-45. There is no charge to charities for the accreditation evaluation.

Standards Not Met — If a charity has number codes (for example: 3, 6, 7) in the second column with a yellow X mark X that means the charity did not meet cited provision(s) of the BBB Charity Standards on pages 44-45.

Unable to Verify — If a charity has number codes (for example: 8, 9, 13) in the column with a blue question mark that means the BBB WGA was unable to verify if the charity met the cited provision(s) of the BBB Charity Standards on pages 44–45. This designation indicates that the charity either did not provide all of the requested information or the information provided was not sufficient to conclude that they met the cited standard(s).

Did Not Disclose — If a charity has a red exclamation mark the charitable organization either has not responded to written BBB WGA requests for information or has declined to be evaluated in relation to the BBB Standards for Charity Accountability. Charity participation in the BBB WGA's review is voluntary. However, without the requested information, it is not possible to determine whether these charities adhere to all of the BBB Standards for Charity Accountability. The BBB WGA encourages charities to disclose accountability information beyond that typically included in financial statements and government filings, in order to demonstrate transparency and strengthen public trust in the charitable sector. The majority of national charities contacted by BBB WGA provide information and participate in the BBB WGA's evaluation program.

Review in Progress — Charities with a in the column marked Review in Progress are being routinely evaluated based on current materials provided by the organization to the BBB WGA.

If a charity does not meet one or more BBB Charity Standards, you can review the explanation(s) of each finding.

The Heart of Giving Podcast is a series of interviews with charity sector leaders and others who care about the health of the charitable sector. Recent participants include Hilary Pennington, Executive Vice President, Global Programs, Ford Foundation and Bob Johansen, Distinguished Fellow, Institute for the Future. We hope these conversations can help strengthen our listeners' understanding of what it means to be generous and how giving impacts all of us in so many ways. You can access The Heart of Giving Podcast on Give.org.

Q&A about BBB Wise Giving Alliance

• How is BBB WGA different from other charity evaluators?

A BBB WGA is a standards-based charity monitoring organization that addresses a variety of issues besides just financial metrics. BBB Charity Standards, include, but are not limited to, such issues as: board oversight, results reporting, appeal accuracy, annual report availability, cause-related marketing disclosures, and responsiveness to donor complaints. While charity finances are important, solely focusing on them will result in an incomplete picture of a charity's accountability. See the full list of our 20 standards at the end of this Guide.

Q Does BBB WGA rate or grade charities?

A No. Charities are not rated against one another. A BBB WGA evaluation concludes either that a charity meets all the standards or does not meet certain ones, for reasons described in the report. Whatever the conclusion, the report does not represent approval or disapproval of the organization or its cause. BBB WGA does not suggest that prospective contributors give, or not give, to any particular organization.

Q How does the BBB WGA decide which charities to review?

A Inquiries from the public about a particular national charity prompt a BBB WGA letter requesting that the charity file information for a review. These inquiries come to us directly, by mail, phone, e-mail, and in referrals from local Better Business Bureaus. In addition, charities may file information for a review on their own initiative. In either case, BBB WGA determines whether the charity is soliciting nationally before it requests information. There is no charge to charities for being evaluated.

National Charity Seal Licensing Program

atch for the seal in a charity's mailings, on its website, in newspaper and magazine advertisements, on TV, in public service announcements, and elsewhere. The seal means the national charity displaying it meets the comprehensive standards of the BBB Wise Giving Alliance.

Use of the seal is entirely voluntary. Not every national charity that meets the standards will choose to participate in the seal program. Participants sign a license agreement and pay a sliding-scale fee based on their total contributions in the past year. A national charity is eligible to apply for participation in the seal program only after an evaluation concludes that the charity meets standards. Licensing fees help BBB WGA cover its expenses.

Occasionally donors ask BBB WGA whether licensing fees influence the outcome of charity evaluations. The answer is no. Our analyst staff is very thorough for each evaluation completed. After a charity report is posted online that shows the organization meets all 20 standards, a separate marketing staff then contacts the charity to invite them to consider participating in the seal program. In addition to this separation of the analytical and licensing processes, BBB WGA ensures that seal participants are reviewed with the same frequency (every two years) as other national charities. Since the inception of the Accredited Charity Seal, about 9% of participating charities were dropped from the seal program as the charity either no longer met standards or did not provide requested updated information. BBB WGA's commitment to objectivity is unwavering. We know that the public's trust in our work is essential to our credibility.

BBB Standards for Charity Accountability

After a three-year period, drawing on independent research on donor expectations, professional and technical assistance from a variety of philanthropic experts, and numerous comments from donors and charities, the BBB Wise Giving Alliance issued the Standards for Charity Accountability.

The full text of the new standards, with a preface and an Implementation Guide describing how the Alliance applies them, is accessible on our website, www.give.org.

GOVERNANCE AND OVERSIGHT

The governing board has the ultimate oversight authority for any charitable organization. This section of the standards seeks to ensure that the volunteer board is active, independent and free of self-dealing. To meet these standards, the organization shall have:

- 1. A board of directors that provides adequate oversight of the charity's operations and its staff. Indication of adequate oversight includes, but is not limited to, regularly scheduled appraisals of the CEO's performance, evidence of disbursement controls such as board approval of the budget and fund raising practices, establishment of a conflict of interest policy and establishment of accounting procedures sufficient to safeguard charity finances.
- 2. A board of directors with a minimum of five voting members.
- 3. A minimum of three evenly spaced meetings per year of the full governing body with a majority in attendance, with face-to-face participation. A conference call of the full board can substitute for one of the three meetings of the governing body. For all meetings, alternative modes of participation are acceptable for those with physical disabilities.
- 4. Not more than one or 10% (whichever is greater) directly or indirectly compensated person(s) serving as voting member(s) of the board. Compensated members shall not serve as the board's chair or treasurer. [Publicly soliciting churches and other houses of worship: see the Implementation Guide at www.give.org for further information about the application of this standard.]
- 5. No transaction(s) in which any board or staff members have material conflicting interests with the charity resulting from any relationship or business affiliation. Factors that will be considered when concluding whether or not a related party transaction constitutes a conflict of interest and if such a conflict is material, include, but are not limited to: any arm's length procedures established by the charity; the size of the transaction relative to like expenses of the charity; whether the interested party participated in the board vote on the transaction; if competitive bids were sought and whether the transaction is one-time, recurring or ongoing.

MEASURING EFFECTIVENESS

An organization should regularly assess its effectiveness in achieving its mission. This section seeks to ensure that an organization has defined, measurable goals and objectives in place and a defined process in place to evaluate the success and impact of its program(s) in fulfilling the goals and objectives of the organization and that also identifies ways to address any deficiencies. To meet these standards, a charitable organization shall:

- 6. Have a board policy of assessing, no less than every two years, the organization's performance and effectiveness and of determining future actions required to achieve its mission.
- 7. Submit to the organization's governing body, for its approval, a written report that outlines the results of the aforementioned performance and effectiveness assessment and recommendations for future actions.

FINANCES

This section of the standards seeks to ensure that the charity spends its funds honestly, prudently and in accordance with statements made in fund raising appeals. To meet these standards, the charitable organization shall:

Please note that standards 8 and 9 have different denominators.

8. Spend at least 65% of its total expenses on program activities.

Formula for Standard 8:

Total Program Service Expenses

should be at least 65%

Total Expenses

9. Spend no more than 35% of related contributions on fund raising. Related contributions include donations, legacies and other gifts received as a result of fund raising efforts.

Formula for Standard 9:

Total Fund Raising Expenses

Total Related Contributions

should be no more than 35%

10. Avoid accumulating funds that could be used for current program activities. To meet this standard, the charity's unrestricted net assets available for use should not be more than three times the size of the past year's expenses or three times the size of the current year's budget, whichever is higher. [Meeting certain public disclosure requirements described in the Implementation Guide at www.give.org may enable a charity to satisfy this standard.]

An organization that does not meet Standards 8, 9 and/or 10 may provide evidence to demonstrate that its use of funds is reasonable. The higher fund raising and administrative costs of a newly created organization, donor restrictions on the use of funds, exceptional bequests, a stigma associated with a cause and environmental or political events beyond an organization's control are among factors which may result in expenditures that are reasonable although they do not meet the financial measures cited in these standards.

- 11. Make available to all, on request, complete annual financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. When total annual gross income exceeds $1,000,000, these statements should be audited in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. For charities whose annual gross income is less than $1,000,000, a review by a certified public accountant is sufficient to meet this standard. For charities whose annual gross income is less than $250,000, an internally produced, complete financial statement is sufficient to meet this standard.
- 12. Include in the financial statements a breakdown of expenses (e.g., salaries, travel, postage, etc.) that shows what portion of these expenses was allocated to program, fund raising and administrative activities. If the charity has more than one major program category, the schedule should provide a breakdown for each category.
- any joint cost allocations, in its financial statements. For example, audited or unaudited statements which inaccurately claim zero fund raising expenses or otherwise understate the amount a charity spends on fund raising, and/or overstate the amount it spends on programs will not meet this standard.

13. Accurately report the charity's expenses, including

14. Have a board-approved annual budget for its current fiscal year, outlining projected expenses for major program activities, fund raising and administration.

FUND RAISING AND INFORMATIONAL MATERIALS

A fund raising appeal is often the only contact a donor has with a charity and may be the sole impetus for giving. This section of the standards seeks to ensure that a charity's representations to the public are accurate, complete and respectful. To meet these standards, the charitable organization shall:

15. Have solicitations and informational materials, distributed by any means, that are accurate, truthful and not misleading, both in whole and in part.

Appeals that omit a clear description of program(s) for which contributions are sought will not meet this standard.

A charity should also be able to substantiate that the timing and nature of its expenditures are in accordance with what is stated, expressed or implied in the charity's solicitations.

16. Have an annual report available to all, on request, that includes:

- (a) the organization's mission statement,
- (b) a summary of the past year's program service accomplishments,
- (c) a roster of the officers and members of the board of directors,
- (d) financial information that includes:
  - (i) total income in the past fiscal year,
  - (ii) expenses in the same program, fund raising and administrative categories as in the financial statements, and
  - (iii) ending net assets.
- 17. Include on any charity websites that solicit contributions, the same information that is recommended for annual reports, as well as the mailing address of the charity and electronic access to its most recent IRS Form 990.

18. Address privacy concerns of donors by

- (a) providing in written appeals, at least annually, a means (e.g., such as a check off box) for both new and continuing donors to inform the charity if they do not want their name and address shared outside the organization, and
- (b) providing a clear, prominent and easily accessible privacy policy on any of its websites that tells visitors
  - (i) what information, if any, is being collected about them by the charity and how this information will be used,
  - (ii) how to contact the charity to review personal information collected and request corrections,
  - (iii) how to inform the charity (e.g., a check off box) that the visitor does not wish his/her personal information to be shared outside the organization, and
  - (iv) what security measures the charity has in place to protect personal information.
- 19. Clearly disclose how the charity benefits from the sale of products or services (i.e., cause-related marketing) that state or imply that a charity will benefit from a consumer sale or transaction. Such promotions should disclose, at the point of solicitation:
- (a) the actual or anticipated portion of the purchase price that will benefit the charity (e.g., 5 cents will be contributed to abc charity for every xyz company product sold),
- (b) the duration of the campaign (e.g., the month of October),
- (c) any maximum or guaranteed minimum contribution amount (e.g., up to a maximum of $200,000).
- 20. Respond promptly to and act on complaints brought to its attention by the BBB Wise Giving Alliance and/or local Better Business Bureaus about fund raising practices, privacy policy violations and/or other issues.
